

Arctic adventurer back pack

Our researchers spend time observing Bewick's swans that spend our summer in the Russian arctic. Their research helps protect these beautiful birds.

Imagine you're one of our WWT arctic researchers, away from home for months. What would you take in your back pack that you couldn't do without during your trip? Your favourite food, a teddy? Draw what you would take.

