

Session title	Wetlands for Wellbeing - Nature Art
Key question	Can we create art from nature?
Session description	Use mindfulness, storytelling, and sensory approaches to improve children's wellbeing whilst inspiring a love of nature. Learners get hands on outside with natural materials, drawing inspiration from nature's beauty, textures, and patterns to create their own unique temporary works of art.
Key Stage	KS1
Duration	60 minutes

Skills Developed	Teamwork – Cooperation and communication. Empathy – For the natural environment and each other. Imagination – Develop imaginative abilities through nature connection. Self-awareness – What we can do to help ourselves feel better. Self-reflection – Being aware of how something makes us feel and expressing it.
Curriculum links	KS1 Science Experience and observe phenomena, look more closely at the natural world around them. Be encouraged to be curious and ask questions about what they notice. KS1 Art and Design Inspire and challenge pupils to experiment, invent and create their own works of art. Use a range of materials and techniques to develop and share their ideas, experiences, and imagination. PSHE Ability to talk about their own and others' emotions. Benefits of physical exercise and time outdoors for mental wellbeing and happiness.

Session Outline	Time
Introduction: Why are wetlands important?
Learners explore what wetlands are and how they provide homes for lots of plants and animals. They discover why they're so important for humans as well.	5 mins
Activity 1: Body Bending
Learners will work as a team to create sculptures of different living things using their body.	10 mins
Activity 2: Ephemeral Art
Learners will create their own temporary piece of art using natural materials.	30 mins
Activity 3: Sit spot
Learners take a quiet, contemplative moment, observing the world around them.	5 mins
Activity 4: Reflection
Learners reflect on how doing the activities and spending time in nature made them feel.	5 mins

Plenary
Learners discuss how important London Wetland Centre and wetlands in general are. They think about how they can appreciate nature where they live.	5 mins